I'm perfectly fine with it, but I see that being a Social Office / Usher's Office call. It sure would make the singing group happy. Thanks, Max

It will be in the State Dining Room, and I hope not more than 80 people, so maybe we could preset the drum etc. at the south end of the room. What do you think?

Looks like the Air Force Singing Sergeants can support this, but...was wondering if they might be able to have some accompaniment...such as drum, guitar and bass. With the drum needing to be pre-positioned, I'm not sure if this would be a show-stopper. The musicians would definately add to the performance. Your thoughts?

Importance: High

Max - Mrs. Bush would like to have one of the military groups to perform over dessert at the Glory Road dinner, and she asked if they could sing songs from 1966. Could you get one of the groups that does the doo-wop singing and ask them to put together some hits from 1966?

Lea, below are some questions from the Air Force Band pertaining to the dinner on Feb 22nd.

My answers/thoughts to their questions listed below...

1. I'm guessing no problem with power.
2. I believe the combo will be on the south side of the state dining room? ~~with 50 guests?~~ and sound reinforcement will not be necessary
3. audience is civilian
4. I'll have them submit a program with additional program options.
5. ??
6. recommend minimal interaction.

You thoughts?

Subject: 22 Feb Event

We have a few questions regarding the 22 Feb Dinner. Any answers you can provide will be most helpful.

1. In that we're bringing a combo for accompaniment, will the performance room provide access to power?
2. How large is the performance room? And, how many attendees are expected? We are trying to decide if the vocalists will need ~~any sound reinforcement~~ given the style of music that's being presented.
3. Is the audience military or civilian?
4. We are planning to submit a program; Is this acceptable or do you think it advisable to provide additional program options?
5. In addition to Mrs. Bush mentioning the year 1966, do you know if she had specific tunes in mind?
6. Would it be appropriate for our vocalists to interact with the audience during their performance?

We hope you don't mind the questions. We're hoping to provide the best & most appropriate support possible for this event.

Thanks so much for your time!
