State of the Union Address
 January 29, 2002
 Draft #21

Mr. Speaker, Mr. President, Members of Congress, distinguished guests, and fellow citizens:

As we gather tonight, our Nation is at war, our economy is in recession, and the civilized world faces unprecedented dangers. Yet the state of our Union has never been stronger.

We last met in an hour of shock and suffering. In four short months, our Nation has comforted the victims ... rallied a great coalition ... captured or arrested more than 400 terrorists... frozen nearly 80 million dollars in terrorist assets ... destroyed 24 terrorist camps ... saved a people from starvation... and helped free a country from brutal oppression.

The American flag flies again over our embassy in Kabul. Terrorists who once occupied Afghanistan now occupy prison cells at Guantanamo Bay. And terrorist leaders who urged followers to sacrifice their lives are running for their own.

America and Afghanistan have been allies against terror ... we will be partners in rebuilding that country ... and this evening we welcome the distinguished interim leader of a liberated Afghanistan: Chairman Hamid Karzai.

The last time we met in this chamber, the mothers and daughters of Afghanistan were captives in their own homes, forbidden from working or going to school. Today women are part of Afghanistan's new government, ... the new Minister of Women's Affairs
