Dear Mr. President:

Thank you for the gifts from our meeting in New York. I appreciate the kind gesture and am pleased we had the opportunity to meet and discuss issues of importance to both our Nations.

I look forward to working with you and building on the cooperative efforts between Pakistan and the United States that we have begun. Your support of the United States and the coalition against international terrorism is important, and I am confident that we can strengthen the productive relationship between our countries.

Best wishes.

Sincerely,

George W. Bush
